DANGERS OF A COLD

Norway People Will Do Well to Heed Them

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Norway resident's example:

W. O. Needham, retired farmer, 230

Main St., says: "At different times when I have taken cold my kidneys were affected. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills when I felt my kidneys needed a tonic and Doan's always strengthened my kidneys and cleared my system of the excessive uric acid. I always feel better in a short time after using this remedy

and know that Doan's are what give me relief." (Statement given July 24, 1908.)

On September 3, 1920, Mr. Needham said: "I haven't changed my good opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills since recommending them years ago. Doan's benefited me greatly and I haven't lost an opportunity of recommending them

since."

Radio Column

EDITED BY DICK CHASE

Another Common Question
Another very common question is "suppose a band were giving a concert in a park in, say, Boston or New York, could you hear it over the Radio? No, it could not be heard unless there were special arrangements with a Broadcasting Station so that the sound was transmitted over a telephone line to the sending apparatus. Everything sent by Radio has to be changed from sound waves to electrical waves and to do this quite a complicated apparatus is used. In a way Radio and the common telephone are similar, anything that can be transmitted over one can be transmitted over the other, the telephone uses wires for the transmission while Radio uses the earth and air or to be more specific, ether.

The Amateur

It might not be out of the way to say something about the "Amateur" at this time because as you will see he plays a very important part in Radio. The Amateur is one of the two classes who use Radio for the pleasure there is in it, the other class is the "Novice" or "Broadcast Listener." The Amateur usually operates a Radio telegraph sending set as well as receiving set, a great many have constructed their own sets and all understand the operation quite completely, while the "Novice" just turns the knob and listens to the music not knowing what is inside the set or what is going on in there.

When the U. S. went into the World War there was a scarcity of radio operators for the ships and Signal Corps. The Amateur saved the day by coming to the front in large numbers. If it had not been for them it would be hard to tell just what would have happened as it takes several months to train an operator enough, to be useful.

Last year the amateurs held a test under the auspices of the A. R. R. L. (American Radio Relay League) with Amateurs across the Atlantic, also one of their own number which they sent over to listen. In this test they accomplished what experts said, was practically impossible. In one instance at least the distance was bridged with less power than it takes to light an ordinary electric lamp.

The principal object of the Amateurs is the relaying of messages for themselves and anyone else who wishes to send them without charge. A record established in relaying was when a message left Hartford, Conn. and was relayed to a station on the Pacific coast and the answer relayed back to Hartford reaching there less than one half hour after the original message started. This of course is not an everyday occurrence.

As an amateur I invite anyone to send to me any messages to be relayed to any part of the U. S., Canada or Porto Rico. There is absolutely no charge and the more the merrier. Be sure to give the complete address of the person to whom the message is going, also your own address. Radio 1 KX, W. Baldwin, Me.

In the past some people claim to have been interfered with by amateur telegraph sets. To eliminate this possibility the A. R. R. L. has declared a silent period in congested districts for telegraph sets so in the future if you are interfered with it will be by commercial stations. The period is from 7:00 to 10:30 P. M.

Questions and Answers

You are invited to send any questions pertaining to Radio to be answered in this column. In doing so, please send a self addressed, stamped envelope so that if the questions are not of sufficient general interest or refer to any particular make of apparatus they may be answered by mail. HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

School Discipline and Punishment

Punishment for the sake of revenge to the evil doer has long since passed by and today we are even venturing to put into practice the theory that punishment has no place in modern society. Whenever any old institution is discarded, there must be substitute for it something better otherwise it were better to retain the old. In the place of punishment we are substituting prevention of interference with the interests of society by the offender and if possible, his reformation.

Let us consider how this may apply to school discipline. Take the case of a hypothetical individual, call him X for convenience. X disobeys the laws of the society of which he forms a part—in this case the school. Before he can continue to enjoy further the benefits of this society he must give definite evidence of his willingness to conform to its existing laws. One of these laws, for example is that a student coming late to class cannot enter that class unless he has been unavoidably detained by a providential cause such as sickness, death or weather. The reason for this ruling is quite obvious. Should this student who is avoidably late be allowed to enter his class late he would disturb the entire class by his late coming for at least one minute. If there are 30 students in the class he has wasted a total of thirty student minutes. It is axiomatic that the one who transgresses a law should be the one to suffer. This student coming late has no right to take a half hour of good time away from the rest of the class. On the other hand we do not propose to punish the offender for this transgression of the law, but instead we want to give him a chance to make up the time that he has lost and fit him to re-enter the society of which he forms a part. Then what should be the procedure of X who has come late to school because he was sleepy and failed to get up in time or loitered on his way to school? Obviously he should make up the time he lost from his class. This arranged for by allowing him to come to school a half hour early in the morning and study where all is quiet before the students have come for their classes. (In the case of a student from the country he may do this extra studying after school if he makes such arrangement with the principal). When X has made up this time lost he reports to the principal who gives an "admit" card showing to all the teachers concerned that he has sufficiently prepared himself for a re-entrance in society.

Let us suppose, however, that X had failed to comply with these requirements. As a logical consequence he is barred from his classes until he has demonstrated that he is willing to live up to the rules of the school to the best of his ability. X may feel, however, that he has a just case and wants a hearing before his teacher or the principal or both. To get this hearing he goes to the teacher concerned when he is conducting a class. If the teacher stops then to discuss the matter he will waste the time for the entire class. If the teacher takes five minutes for the consideration of the case and there are thirty students in the class there are five minutes lost to thirty students or time equivalent to two and one-half hours. The teacher, however, does not take this time away from the other students, but instead tells him to see him at some other time when the time of other students will not be taken. At this X becomes angry, goes home and reports to his parents that he is being kept from his classes. Had X acted wisely, he would have come to either the principal after school the evening before, or before school on the morning of his being refused admission to class, to present his case. He had plenty of warning for his name appeared on the "admit" list in the main room the previous evening.

The above mentioned and other rulings are made solely for the benefit of the school. If the above article is not clear in any detail the writer will be glad to confer with anyone wishing further information. A whole hearted co-operation on the part of the parents will help in making our school a success.

—Glenn K. Kelly, Principal.

WORKS FOR CHILD MUST KEEP WELL

Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago, Illinois.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. WHAT CAUSES GAS

ON THE STOMACH?

It is caused by fermenting, sour waste matter in the intestines. This old, foul matter should be thoroughly cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Ika. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing old accumulated matter you never thought was in your system. Adler-Ika relieves ANY GAS on the stomach. EXCELLENT for sour stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. Frank Kimball, Druggist.

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. Wayside Comments at Camp Ground
Some interesting reading has been found in the tourist register kept in the cook shack on Morris Island, Lower Main Street. This place was opened in August by the Norway Board of Trade for a camp site where tourists might find a refuge and modern conveniences.

Situated on the cement trail from Portland, many weary travelers pitched their tents, thankful for a brand new cook house, a real stove, dry wood, and a never failing spring of pure water near at hand. Stores less than a half mile away and accommodating neighbors almost within a stone's throw were conditions heartily appreciated.

Nearly three hundred tourists signed the book between August 11 and the last of October. They claimed residences in states from Maine to California, even Porto Rico had a representative. Their comments are well worth reading.

The Advertiser will publish in installments a list of tourists' their addresses and unsolicited testimonials as appear on the records. Mighty interesting reading, too. Here is the first lot:

Battery Station in New Quarters

Elgin A. Greenleaf, proprietor of the Willard Service Station is settled in his new quarters, formerly the Gibbs & Knightly garage. Alterations have converted the garage into three rooms for convenience of handling the battery and electrical business. Cars can be run into the building for repairs with ample storage space in the rear. An office and sales room is on one side where a large line of batteries and electrical accessories are carried.

The battery room is on the opposite side where testing, charging and repairing is done with all necessary electrical devices in place. Auto batteries, regardless of make, are accepted, with a large stock of parts on hand for quick service. Mr. Greenleaf features "winter storage" and this room has been designed to keep batteries from freezing even during the most severe weather.

During the confusion and rush in getting settled only a part of the storage racks are in place, but when completely installed several hundred batteries can be easily cared for in a compact space.

BOY SCOUTS' WORK

Oxford County Council Annual Meeting The Annual Meeting of the Oxford County Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held in the American Legion rooms, Bethel, Maine, Nov. 1st. Every officer of the Council was on hand as well as numerous representatives from both sections of the county. The weather was perfect and added greatly to the spirits of the assembly.

George R. Morton, President of the Council, called them to order at 2:30 p. m. and the afternoon session began. Reports from the different committeemen were of good tone and showed steady gain in Scouting in their different towns. A unanimous vote was passed that the work should be carried on for the coming year. A report from the Executive showed a registration of 16 troops with 365 scouts, giving the Oxford County Council, second council in size in the state. The report also showed that the Oxford County Scout Camp to be the largest Scout camp in the State and coupled with an exceptionally good record.

The year's work was unanimously accepted as a record to be proud of and a fitting tribute to the value of scouting in general. The entire list of 1922 officers were re-elected and agreed to serve for the ensuing year. George R. Morton, Arthur Stowell and H. C. Rowe were elected as the Camping Committee for 1923 and Harold C. Ferham Exec. as Camp Director of the Oxford County Scout Camp for 1923.

Definite plans for the 1923 Financial Campaign were laid and the date for the final clean-up of Local Quotas was set for January 1, 1923. The general plan of action to be followed in the Drive for funds is to give every person a chance to Boost Scouting in Oxford County by contributing his bit.

Do you have PARTIAL or COMPLETE Electric Service?

Are you enjoying the full convenience of electricity?

When you use your various home electric servants do you connect the plugs to convenient outlets or must you climb on a chair to attach an unsightly cord to your lighting fixture?

You will be surprised to find out how little it costs to turn partial into complete convenience—to substitute convenience for inconvenience.

Be sure to have beautiful table lamps, quick heat from portable radiators at convenient points in your home. Be able to have electrical kitchen helpers to work for you; and use all of them at the same time, if need be.

Plan for enough switches so that you will never need to fumble in the dark, no matter where you may be. All of these features are essentials of complete electrical convenience.

Whether you buy, rent or build, convenience is what you should demand of your electrical installations.

You'll profit, we believe, by consulting us on the many ways and means to make your home electrically more convenient. We are at your disposal for the smallest as well as the largest order.
